The Academy is a prestigious international institution for the study and teaching of Public and Private International Law and related subjects. The work of the Hague Academy receives the support and recognition of the UN. Its purpose is to encourage a thorough and impartial examination of the problems arising from international relations in the field of law. The courses deal with the theoretical and practical aspects of the subject, including legislation and case law. All courses at the Academy are, in principle, published in the language in which they were delivered in the "Collected Courses of the Hague Academy of International Law .

The book contains a selection of articles written in the years 1962-2004 and published in English or French languages. They provide information and present views of the author on matters relating to the development and transformations which occurred in maritime law in the second half of the 20th century. Articles on Polish maritime law are presented separately from more numerous articles on international and transnational maritime law. The articles compiled in this book illustrate the process of important changes and developments occurred in maritime law in the said period. They indicate how problems created by the progress in the organisation of maritime trade, technical innovations and political changes on the map of the world were identified, considered and sometimes solved, in the latter case the relevant article may have only a historical significance. At the same time some traditional institutions of maritime law were changing their role and needed a reappraisal and revision.

The International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea is an international court with competence to settle disputes concerning the law of the sea. It is a central forum for the settlement of disputes relating to the interpretation and application of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea under the comprehensive system for the settlement of disputes established by the Convention. The Tribunal has exclusive and binding jurisdiction in certain instances. The Tribunal's Seabed Disputes Chamber has compulsory jurisdiction over conflicts concerning seabed activities. The Tribunal is open to States, international organizations and other entities. This volume contains the texts of written pleadings, the minutes of public sittings and other documents from the prompt release proceedings in the M/V "SAIGA" case (Saint Vincent and the Grenadines v. Guinea) in their original language. The Orders and Judgment made in this case have been published in Reports of Judgments, Advisory Opinions and Orders 1997 (ITLOS Reports 1997).
