Ik was weer gelukkig, terug in Afrika, rijk van het licht, schrijft Theroux wanneer hij begint aan een nieuwe reis: van Kaapstad naar Angola, dwars door het continent waar hij zoveel van houdt. Hij onderneemt een adembenemende olifantensafari in Botswana en belandt in Angola, bijna op de grens met Congo. Na meer dan vierduizend kilometer door de bush beëindigt hij zijn reis eerder dan hij van plan was, een beslissing waarover hij, teleurgesteld, genadeloos eerlijk schrijft.

Current Geographical Publications (CGP) is a non-profit service to the scholarly community initiated in 1938 by the American Geographical Society of New York. Travel journalism about natural attractions is environmental communication at the cusp of consumerism and concern. Countries and regions that market forests, rivers and wildlife to international tourists drive place-of-origin brand recognition that benefits exporters in other sectors. Place-branding in such destinations is not just PR for environmentally sustainable development and consumption, but also a political enterprise. Environmental Communication and Travel Journalism considers tourism public relations as elite reputation management, and applies models of political conflict and source-media relations to the analysis of the 'soft' genre of travel journalism. The book seeks to understand how, in whose interests and against what odds discourses of cosmopolitanism and place-branding influence the way travel journalists represent vulnerable and contested environments. Informed by interviews with journalists and their sources, Environmental Communication and Travel Journalism identifies and theorises networks, cultures, discursive strategies and multiple loyalties that can assist or interrupt flows of environmental concern in the cosmopolitan public sphere. The book should be of interest to scholars of environmental communication, environmental politics, journalism, tourism, marketing and public relations.

Het maken van verre reizen zit de Zuid-Afrikaan Damon in het bloed. In Griekenland ontmoet hij een jonge Duitser die hij als zielsverwant herkent. Hij is bereid hem in alles te volgen, totdat de prijs te hoog wordt. In Afrika raakt hij in de ban van een Zwitserse rugzaktoerist, die zijn gevoelens misschien wel, maar misschien ook niet beantwoordt. Tot slot wordt hij in India overvallen door de wanhoopsdaad van zijn vriendin Anna. Waar hij ook is, en wie hij onderweg ook ontmoet, steeds wordt hij geconfronteerd met de vraag hoeveel je van jezelf op wilt geven om bij een ander te kunnen horen. In een vreemde kamer stond op de shortlist van de Man Booker Prize 2010.
