Are you looking to create a custom trading Journal layout? I had this problem too. There are so many trading journals and software for recording trades but majority of them have a preset layout. Every trader has their own trading system/strategy and trying to fit it into someone else log is impossible, you end up recording stuff you don't want and missing on information that would have helped you improve your trading. Well, I discovered Dot Grid Journals. These types of journals are simply blank with faint dots that will guide you arrange your work. With this freedom you can: - Create your own custom layout for your journal. Change they layout page after page. For example, in my journal I have a layout for the daily trades and different layout for the end of the week analysis. Sketch anything you want. Change your layout as your trading strategy and philosophy changes. As traders we are constantly evolving and so do out trading strategies Most Important, try different layouts until you find what fits you best. I have found that when you have put time and effort in setting up your own trading journal layout you are more likely to be consistent in your journaling. We all Know that record keeping is a very important part for any trader's success but most of us find ourselves not doing it. I created this 120-page A5 dot grid journal for you; who wants some freedom on what history of your trading to keep. All the Power is in your hands now. Get your copy today start keeping a consistent trading log. You will thank yourself later... I did.
